Pres. Wilkinson Lays Riots Squarely On Revolutionists

ent riots in the United were laid squarely on the left-wing revolutionists by President Ernest L. Wilkinson in an address to the Kiwanis Club.

He placed some of the blame on administrators who fail promptly and with firmness to put some of the burden on shoulders of teachers who give revolutionary actions on of the students.

Wilkinson said there is little that a small, highly trained minority of students can create grave on any campus or in any, and almost always best a crowd of people who do not know what they want to

First-Degree Murder

ANGELES (AP)—Sirhan Sirhan, who assassinated F. Kennedy as the senator in a major triumph in his bid for president, was sentenced today of first-degree trial will begin on Monday to either life or death for the Jordanian Arab who was inflamed by Kennedy's role in the Middle East entered the court today as for the 15 weeks of the puffing a cigarette by no more apprehensive than any time.

Deputies stood over him as clerk read the verdict, trying to emotion. The jury, which had deliberated for 42 minutes since the case Monday, thus chose the Cougarettes Candy Brown, Susan Brown, Diane Kimball and Gregory. Scheduled to be in the Wilkinson Center on at 9 p.m., music will be provided by The Entertainers. In the intermission the Cougarettes will perform a routine.

Kiwanians and asserted, "It is no accident that serious campus troubles appear almost simultaneously in many colleges throughout the land. Nor is it a mere chance happening that recently a number of agitators have been observed making the rounds of different colleges in order to brew campus trouble wherever they go."

He said they use the time-worn communist method of discovering sore-spots, which they can proceed to inflame to the point of explosion, with the aim of destroying what they call the ruling structure or establishment.

Among the issues he listed are racial problems, the Vietnam War, so-called "student power" and general rejection of authority. In reference to student power he said students, seeing the bad example of the faculty being given more and more powers of administration, hope to get some for themselves.

"And with parents who have themselves been raised by the half-baked psychology of permissiveness, it is little to be wondered at that so many young people resent any authority."

The educator asserted, "We need men at the helm who will promptly call the police to the campus to quell a riot and who will, with equal promptness, eject the revolutionary troublemakers, nipping them in the bud instead of letting them get out of hand. We need more permanent suspensions in matters like this!"

Turning to faculty blame he said, "If any professor does not like the way things are being run, and he has exhausted every legitimate channel, he should have the integrity that would lead him to resign."

On the other hand, he asserted, communists have no place on a college faculty and should not be permitted to hide behind the cry of academic freedom. "There is no academic freedom to destroy the freedom of others."

Dr. Wilkinson urged college administrators to be aware of the infiltration and activities of hidden subversives who would destroy not only the college but also the freedom of all, then to remove such threats before they become a major issue. He suggested also that colleges and universities should keep their own houses clean and remove sore-spots, including injustices and incompetencies.

"One of the more important things that a college can do is to get its values straight. Instead of wallowing around in a morass of sickly relativism, the administration must rediscover what the college is meant to stand for and set sail in that direction in no uncertain terms. Eternal principles must be found again, and again become the guiding stars of our educational craft."

'Brotherhood' Competition

An art and literary contest will be one of the highlights of Brotherhood Week, May 4-9, sponsored by the Sophomore Class.

Poems, collages, essays, lithographs, sculpture, paintings, songs—your name it. There are no limits on what may be entered for competition.

Originality, quality and harmony with the theme "A greater understanding of racial brotherhood" will be the criteria for judging, and May 5 will be the deadline for entries.

ASBYU President Urges Passage Of Amendment VI

By Lynn Packham
Assistant News Editor

"There must be a joint election of ASBYU presidents and executive vice presidents. Amendment VI needs to pass to assure an effective working relationship between the two officers," said ASBYU President

Grant Richards in rebuttal to statements in a DAILY UNIVERSE article Thursday.

Voting on the amendments and candidates continues today at booths in the McKay Bldg., Jesse Knight Bldg., Wilkinson Center Reception Area, Cannon Center and Deseret Center from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"The student body decreed on March 7 that the executive vice president 'shall, under the direction of the Executive Council, assist the student president, in the absence of, and shall become president in the event that the office becomes vacant," Richards reiterated.

"The only way the executive vice president can fulfill his obligations is by cooperating closely with the ASBYU president," Richards said.

While the majority of student leaders agree that the president and vice president must cooperate, many feel that putting Amendment VI before the students in this primary election is bad timing.

"Both of us oppose bickering for this office at election time," said executive vice president Venson Thomas.

"We've both been duly nominated, and have spent time and money on our campaigns," said Ken Murdock, the other executive vice president.

"Before campaigns started," Richards said, "both executive vice candidates were warned of the possibility that Amendment VI might be submitted.

GRANT RICHARDS

... may be thinking of campaigns gone by—but even though he is not running for office, he has a lot at stake in the outcome of today's election.

World Highlights

Ahead Given

SALT LAKE CITY—Mormon Church officials announced plans to go ahead with a new 25-story building in Salt Lake City, to house Church temples and auxiliaries.

The new building will be the Salt Lake Temple and will be the present administration for the Church of Jesus of Latter-day Saints, one of the First Presidency.

Officials said the building would not be exclusively for church temples and auxiliaries but would be used in the Church Administration Building and many buildings in the city. The general authorities of the church would continue to occupy the present building. Construction is to begin this year. Estimated cost of the building not disclosed.

Only Hope

KYO (AP)—The Viet Cong today has the only hope for peace with Vietnam to "get all U.S. military troops out and let the native people themselves manage their own affairs."

It is the honorable way for the United States to get out of the Vietnam deadlock," said a commentary in Hanoi. The newspaper of the Viet armed forces, said President Nixon is meeting "many enormous difficulties" and "cannot carry out the 'clear and hold' strategy."

He wants to de-Americanize the puppet army and both the United States and the puppet army are suffering many setbacks.

He wants to pacify the rural areas but his pacification forces are suffering heavy losses. He wants to strengthen the puppet political position, but is shaking heavily.

Post Office

WASHINGTON—Postmaster General Winton Louis announced today a reorganization of the Post Office Department structure, merging the offices of three bureaus and creating one entirely new one.

He also disclosed that President Nixon is nominating two business executives and a university official to the postmaster's general duties during the first Negro ever to a top post office job.

Involved in the reorganization, Louis said, is the merging of the offices of transportation and mail and the office of mail management into a bureau of mail.

He said time, he said, a new plan will be established entitled "Plan of Planning, Marketing, and Mail."

director of the center for urban affairs at Michigan State University, and Henry Lehne, a senior vice president of Sylvania Electric Products.

Lee, a Negro and former head of the department's planning and systems analysis office, will direct the new bureau of planning, marketing and systems analysis. Blount said, and Lehne will head the bureau of facilities.

The three appointments completed the staff of staff that included a deputy, five assistants and a general counsel.

Merging the transportation and operations bureaus, Blount said, will allow one individual to have responsibility and authority to run the mail operations in the field.

Woman Pres.?

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon predicted to members of the League of Women Voters today a woman would be elected president within 50 years.

"Certainly in the next 50 years we shall see a woman president—perhaps sooner than you think," he said at a White House reception. "A woman can and should be able to do any political job that a man can do."

Nixon spoke Wednesday night to another women's group—the Republican Women's Conference—and promised real progress by next year on his three great issues—Peace, curbing inflation and restoring law and order.

It was his first appearance as President before a huge party gathering and he told the 4,800 guests: "I ask you to help me to hold me and all my Cabinet colleagues responsible on these three things."

At his last session with the League of Women Voters, Nixon issued a proclamation urging all citizens to join with the league in celebrating its 50th anniversary next year.

Press Restrained

MOSCOW (AP) The Soviet press has been relatively restrained in its reaction to the downing of a U.S. Navy reconnaissance plane off North Korea.

Dispatches have been brief and have omitted many details, including the fact that Soviet warships aid in the search for the plane and its 31 crewmen. Even the fact that a Soviet destroyer recovered pieces of the plane's wreckage has been ignored.

The government newspaper Izvestia avoided direct comment. It referred to "the report" that the plane was shot down "over the territory of" North Korea. This is the North Korean version. The U.S. version is that the plane was over international waters when attacked.

An Izvestia dispatch from Washington took note of some calls for a tough U.S. reaction but other congressmen—its single out Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield as one—are calling on the Nixon administration not to permit such incidents.

Husak Named

VIENNA (AP)—Gustav Husak has been appointed Communist party chief in Czechoslovakia, the Bulgarian news agency BTA said today, quoting a report by its correspondent in Prague. Alexander Dubcek, whom he replaced, remained a member of new, 11 man Presidium.

The BTA report said Josef Smrkovsky, one of the popular liberals in the Czechoslovak Communist leadership, has been dropped from the Presidium.

The new Presidium comprised, according to BTA: Premier Oldrich Cernik, Alexander Dubcek, Evzen Erban, Stefan Sadoski, President Ludvik Svoboda, Lubomir Strougal, Karel Polacek, Vasil Blazek, Jan Pilzer and Peter Colotka.

Sniper Misses

EL QANTARA, Occupied Sinai (AP)—A sniper's bullet scattered foreign correspondents at a news conference here today, missing an Israeli army officer by inches.

The officer was standing on a veranda as he briefed newsmen on the banks of the Suez Canal, 200 yards from the Egyptian front line. The bullet slammed into a pillar at the officer's left.

This correspondent was standing directly to the right of the soldier, and AP staff photographer Brian Calvert was behind him.

The officer commented coolly: "They must have known you were coming."

Three more sniper shots followed. The Israelis did not return the fire.

Communists Meet

PRAGUE (AP)—With pro-Soviet, old guard strength on the rise, Czechoslovakia's Communist party Central Committee met today in crisis session.

The Central Committee met in Prague Castle, overlooking the capital, following a morning session of the 21-man Presidium at party headquarters.

It was the first full-dress Central Committee session since March 28-29 anti-Soviet demonstrations throughout the country plunged Czechoslovakia into a new crisis with Moscow and sharpened the internal struggle between reformers and the old guard.

The session opened as Prague's municipal Communist party committee issued a sharp warning against "irresponsible activities of individuals and groups who disorient public opinion, increase political tension and try to influence the work of political organizations through the spread of rumors, leaflets, illegally organized meetings and appeals."

ABM Could Tackle Nuclear Threats-Laird

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today the Nixon administration's proposed antiballistic missile (ABM) defense would give the United States the capability to deal with major nuclear threats emerging in the 1970s.

Laird told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that a major feature of the Safe-guard missile shield is that it would give the country a number of options for defending U.S. nuclear deterrent forces or cities against various missile assaults.

The defense chief had nothing to say, in his prepared remarks, on North Korea's shooting down of an unarmed Navy electronic plane in the Sea of Japan.

This appeared to be in line with the administration's cautious attitude on how the Korean problem should be dealt with.

MOSTLY GENERAL
For the most part Laird's speech dwelled on general problems confronting the Pentagon at a time when war is being waged in Vietnam, defense expenditures are a matter of concern and the military community faces a good deal of criticism from various quarters.

Laird defended the decision to go ahead with a missile defense, noting that the Johnson administration also felt it necessary to deploy a missile shield.

He said nothing would please him more than successful arms talks, and added:

"But until that success is realized, it is my responsibility as secretary of defense to ensure that we maintain a credible deterrent and an adequate defense posture."

Laird said there is no question today about the U.S. ability to absorb a nuclear attack and still retaliate against the attacker with overwhelming nuclear power.

"However, the potential threat from the Soviet Union lies in the fact that it is building at a rapid rate the kinds of weapons that could be used to erode our deterrent," Laird stated. "From the Red Chinese, a potential threat lies in their growing capability to build a small ICBM capacity against our cities."

Blasphemy Protested

LONDON (AP)—Christ was depicted on British television screens Wednesday night as a wild-eyed desert prophet with tangled hair who marilyng told his disciples, "Use your flaming heads."

"Go on, get out of here, you nut case," Peter told Jesus at another point. "You ought to be locked up."

"Nut case? You're right—I bloody am," Christ replied.

Dennis Potter wrote the 90-minute play, "Son of Man," for the British Broadcasting Corp. It traced the life of Christ from his 39th day in the wilderness and ended with closeups of his being whipped and the nails of the crucifixion being driven into his hands.

Colin Blakely, a star of the National Theatre, played Christ.

Protest calls jammed the BBC switchboard, and hundreds of viewers called London newspapers, complaining that the play was blasphemous.

Latins Set Week's Festivities

Coming up next week at BYU is Latin American Week with a Latin night, displays, speeches and talent shows.

Each day at noon students from Mexico and Central and South America will perform in the style of their homeland on the Wilkinson Center West Patio.

The Wilkinson Center itself will also feature displays from the different Latin countries.

Brazilian orator Alberto Ramos will give lectures on campus Wednesday and Thursday.

Wednesday night is Noche Latina at 7 p.m. in the Wilkinson Center Ballroom with a dinner catered by El Azteca, a program, and a dance.

Today is the last day to buy tickets for Noche Latina. They are available at $1.75 for students and $2 for non-students through Dave Silinto, Ken Martineau, Enoch Flores, Dr. Wesley Craig, or at El Azteca.

Field Days Planned

Top-grade cattle, horses, poultry and other meat animals will be on display and judged at Brigham Young University's Tenth Annual Agricultural Field Days today and Saturday.

Over 400 participants from high schools, universities, and chapters of the Future Farmers of America are expected to enter the event which is sponsored by the BYU Animal Science and Agronomy departments.

Meat animals will be judged at 9 a.m. Friday at the Animal Science Laboratory, 2237 N. University Avenue. Then at 3:15 p.m., breeding cattle, sheep, hogs, and horses will be viewed at the same location.

Judging of dairy cattle will be Saturday at 8:30 a.m. at the BYU Farm in Spanish Fork, and poultry will be judged at 9 a.m. in the Poultry Laboratory area of the farm.

Dairy products will be shown noon in the Dairy Products Laboratory of the BYU farm, and top-quality meat will be graded at p.m. in the Meats Laboratory.

KSL Radio in Salt Lake will broadcast the results of the contests from 6:50-7 p.m. Saturday.

Attention All 1969 Graduates

BYU Hosts Intermountain Bowling

By Scott Strain
Universe Sports Writer

Can the BYU bowling team pull the pins out from under the Boise State Broncos and win the Intermountain Bowling conference?

This and other questions will be answered Saturday morning in the Wilkinson Center Games Area as the IBC playoffs kick off the final act of the 1968-69 season. Action begins at 9 a.m.

BSU is leading by a slim 62 pins over BYU, but the Cougars are tabbed to win the title because of the home lane advantage. Judging from what the Y did to the University of Montana last Saturday, that's quite an advantage.

BYU Hosts Colorado State

By Mike Twitty
Asst. Sports Editor

Colorado State invades Provo for a single game at 2:30 p.m. today and a doubleheader Saturday beginning at 1 p.m.

The Rams bring a 9-6 mark into the series including a 1-2 record in the Western Athletic Conference following last weekend's trip to Laramie.

Wyoming swept a doubleheader from CSU, 10-0, and 8-5, after dropping the opener, 5-4. The Cowboys, currently tied with the Cougars for the Northern Division lead, face Utah in Salt Lake City today and Saturday.

Coach Irv Ferguson, now in his fourteenth year at Ft. Collins, praised the Cougars as "one of the toughest teams we will face" but he also admitted that his team "is making a real effort to get up for rough road trip."

Probable starting pitcher for the visitors is Larry Yarbner, a junior with a 3-1 record and 1.62 ERA. BYU is also likely to be matched against Phil Johnson (2-2 and 2.62 ERA) and Ed Hansen (2-1 and 4.34 ERA).

BYU Coach Glen Tuckett will start with ace lefthander Rich Zinniger who leads the mound staff with six wins and no defeats and sports a 2.02 ERA after 49 innings.

Another probable starter will be Denis DuNann who has posted a 2-1 record and a superb 1.85 ERA.

Radio station KEYE (1450) will broadcast today's game with Colorado State at 2:30 p.m. Saturday's second game of the doubleheader will also be broadcast with the play-by-play beginning at approximately 3:30 p.m.

Texans Invade Tomorrow — Cats Host Abilene Christian

By John Robinson
Associate Sports Editor

Saturday will be the last chance to see BYU's powerful cindermen against a formidable opponent as the Cats battle perennially tough Abilene Christian, winner of six consecutive conference titles, in Cougar Stadium. Field events commence at 12:30 p.m. with the pole vault. The running events are slated to get underway at 1:30 p.m.

One more home meet will follow against Utah State May 17, but that duel will not provide nearly as much excitement as the one with the Texans Saturday.

Some outstanding marks should be in the offing considering the competition involved.

MILE RELAY

The mile relay will be of particular interest as the Cats are pulling out all stops in hopes of dethroning the Texans. The Cat foursome of Ralph Mann, Jim Blaisdell, Gary Tipton and either Paul Hackett, Gary Tracker or Tom Bonin plan to be at their best for the day's final event.

Mann will not run his specialty, the 440 yard intermediate hurdles, so that he will have all his strength for the relay. It will need it as the opposing anchorman, Roger Colglazier, has one of nation's best times at 46.7 for the 440 yard dash. Blaisdell will run the 220 yard dash instead of the grueling 440 yard dash to conserve his strength for the relay.

Currently the Cats have a 3:11.6 clocking for the event. A mark of 3:11.0 or better is needed to qualify for the NCAA championships in June.

With the competition which the Texans will provide, the Cats should be able to better the qualifying standard and perhaps even come close to the school mark of 3:08.2 set at the NCAA meet in 1964.

Last week the Abilene foursome blazed to a 3:08.3 clocking at the Texaa Relays to rank as one of the top quartets in the nation.

BERGESONS READY

Steve and Stan Bergeson, Cat middle distance aces, will have the competition required to push them to a fast time in the 880 yard run. Steve is undefeated in the half mile this year—as is Abilene's half mile ace Fred Crawford. Either or both Bergesons are also possible entrants in the mile.

The sprints and sprint relay should also provide plenty of thrills in the running events.

The top duel in the field events will be in the discus where two men who have tossed the platter over 180 feet will collide. Cougar Mike Hoffman is undefeated thus far and might be forced to break his school record of 184 feet 4 1/2 inches to stay that way.

uskie, Pokes Take On Cougars

BYU tennis squad swings on today after a two week layoff. The Huskies of the University of Washington at Pullman, on the outdoor courts of the new indoor facility being served in case of rain.

The Huskies will continue tomorrow with the Wyoming Cowboys at Pullman in Provo to take its time for that match is at 12:30 p.m.

The Huskies boast one of the finest players in Dick and should provide the match with the toughest competition since BYU journeyed to California and dropped tough matches to both USC and UCLA. Since then the Cougars have not tasted defeat and sport an impressive 7-2 dual meet record so far this year.

Leading the Cougars will be Zdravko Minck, the Yugoslav star who has performed so well for the Cats to date. But outstanding is a term that can be applied to the rest of the team as well, and Larry Hall, Don Lowe, Eric Baer, Chuck Pate and either Dave George or Patrick Landau will carry the BYU colors into singles competition.

Rugby Crown At Stake As BYU Meets Utah

By Chuck Peterson
Universe Sports Writer

The Western Rockies Rugby Union Championship will be at stake Saturday when BYU "A" meets the University of Utah rugby team on Haws Field at 7 p.m.

This game will determine who will represent the WRU in the Rocky Mountain Championship to be held May 3 in Colorado.

Both BYU and Utah are undefeated in play in the local rugby union. Utah defeated BYU "B" 8-3.

Although Utah is a new team this year, they have put together a strong team. Utah plays a forward game while BYU plays a back game. The contest will be a clash in styles.

BYU has the edge in experience but Utah outsmarts BYU in the scrum. Coach John Segar plans to put the winger into the scrum to overcome Utah's weight advantage.

BYU "B" will meet the Salt Lake Rugby Club at 5:30 p.m. Saturday on Haws Field.

BYU Linksters Stomp Weber; Take On Utah Redskins Today

BYU's golfers are looking forward to today's match with Utah at the Riverside Country Club, having sharpened their drivers and putters in a 20-7 trouncing of Weber State Wednesday.

The Cougars will be favored over the Utes in the 1:30 p.m. meet. According to latest reports, the westerman intends to cooperate by providing excellent golf weather.

In Wednesday's match, the Cougars gained revenge for a one-point loss to the Wildcats last week.

Don Hawken led the team to the win. His 3-under par 69 earned medalist honors for the day. He was the only golfer on the course to break par, and the only BYU team member who finished without a round over par.

Mike Shafer and Ken Pettingill led Weber with par 72's.

But it was the unsung hero of the BYU team that earned the victory.

In the final foursome, Rusty Gurnsey and Jack Chapman combined to gather nine points while shutting their opposition out.

And in the second group, Hawken and Mitch Voges won seven of the nine points. Hawken's 2 1/2 to 1/2 victory over Pettingill led to a 3-0 best ball score while Voges halved with Shafer.

In the top foursome, Ray Leach and Lane Bennett played below par golf, in terms of their potential. Their scores were above par and they were edged, 5-4, by their Weber rivals Jim Linke and Terry Monson.

Leach took individual honors from Monson by a 2 1/2-1/2 count, but Bennett dropped his battle to Linke, 3-1.

DON HAWKEN

Marvel—BYU Academy Awards

By
Susan Tanner
Culture Editor

Monday night a group under the direction of the "New Popular," actors of today made a mockery of what was once the highlight of the film industry—The Academy Awards.

In keeping with the trend this columnist will now proceed to hand out BYU's own and exciting Academy Awards (no pun intended).

An award for BYU's best achievement in sound goes to the carillon bells for their off-key portrayal of music between classes on Tuesday and Thursday. Keep up the sound—it's a cinch they'll never play the Beatles' "Why Don't We Do It In The Road."

One of the year's greatest, Best Supporting Actress, is awarded to Judy Geissler for her "supporting" role in student government.

SONG

The song for the year is "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." Rumor has it that if something better doesn't show up this song will be nominated next year. With our luck, it'll probably win.

Make-up, the award that causes controversy from every end, is given to H.D. and T.T. for last night's performance on the door step after an amazing disengagement.

To the girls who compete with boys in their dress—especially those who wear FANTASIES to classes, (gripe) goes the award of Best Costume Design (Best could be deleted and Costume capitalized).

A tid-bit for those in the mini-Best Short Subject.

PROVO

The Provo City Attorney gets one too. The film editor award goes to him for waiting two weeks before closing down the show, CANDY. Can't win them all.

Best Achievement in Directing goes to the BYU Security department during the traffic jams after concerts and before classes. Too bad we don't have one for ticket distribution.

A Special Effects award goes to the noise in the Quad between classes. The candidates are really competing—especially with the teachers of the one and one-half hour classes.

The Best Score award should go to the Football Team, but due to circumstances beyond our control...

ADAPTATION

Adaptation, one of the hardest awards to give out was unanimously voted to Grant Richards after his recent marriage. Several hunters on the fifth floor were vying for the award, but just couldn't make the grade; Pierre, Jim, Suzee.

An Outstanding Humor award goes to the little piece of underground trash that has been floating around on campus.

SERIOUS

A little more on the serious side are a few awards that deserve to be given to actors who are not acclaimed or honored very much.

The first on the list is for Art Direction. This year's art showings in the Fine Arts Center have been exceptional and the people in charge are to be congratulated.

A Production award goes to the News Bureau for the rams of information they send out each day on what's happening at BYU. P.R. can't be all bad. Special thanks to Ed Butterworth.

BEST ACTOR

Best Actor is President Ernest L. Wilkinson for his role in "The University President." He takes a lot of guff, but it seems that the job always gets done.

Best Supporting Actor goes to Paul Genho for all the time, and effort he has put in helping students. He's a hard worker and deserves every smile he gets.

Instead of Best Actress, we are giving a special award—"Combat Hero of the Year," goes to Kathy Flake for her role as UNIVERSE critic.

The final award goes for Best Picture of the Year. This award was particularly hard to choose because all the "Oldies But Goodies" are so hard to pick. At last, however, we chose Korlor and the Gidanton Robbers," shown in all Religion classes.

Until next year. Enjoy.

The Beauty of it all

by MARY LEE

Among other kasee-known soap and water facts is a new recommendation to wash music record discs occasionally. Seems that a major jukebox distributor suggests using a soft sponge, lukewarm water and light suds to wash the discs. Be sure to rinse thoroughly before laying the discs out to dry.

***

"People are surprisingly ignorant about proper leather care," says Larry Probeck, president of a leather company in Dallas (Mohawk Leather Co.). Although fine leather furniture should occasionally be treated to professional refinishing, he suggests that homemakers can keep it clean simply by using cheesecloth to wash it with a soapy lather. Rinse off the suds, wipe with a damp cloth, then a dry soft clean cloth. "It is never necessary to oil leather," he adds."

Fantasticks Premieres With Near Sell-Out

By Janis Roadsmith
University Culture Writer

"The Fantasticks" opens tonight in the Park Drama Theatre of the Harris Fine Arts Center.

Directed by Dr. Preston Gledhill, the musical will run through May 3. Starting time is 8:15 p.m. with Tuesday matinees at 3:30 p.m.

Tickets are available at the Harris Fine Arts Center box office. Students and faculty are free. All others are $2.50.

Created by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, "The Fantasticks" is a simple story about a boy and girl in love.

Ron Stevenson plays the part of Matt, and Pam Groo portrays Luisa. Their fathers are played by Norman Birdsell and Jack McLaughlin. The story is narrated by Nelson Maxwell as El Gallo.

The fathers believe that the best way to ensure that their children fall in love is to disapprove of their relationship and separate them.

A wall is constructed to keep Matt and Luisa apart, and they fall in love.

Realizing the feud has to end, an elaborate abduction is planned with El Gallo kidnapping Luisa, which hopefully will be heroically foiled by Matt.

Other members of the cast are Byron Monson as the Mate, Tom Nibley playing the role of the Man Who Dies and Robert Alto as the Old Actor.

Der Winterhorn is doing the choreography and Bev Warner the costumes. Music director is Lynn Robinson.

Charles Henson is the designer of the simple set—a wall and a wooden stage.

May marks the tenth anniversary of the Jones-Schmidt creation, it first opened at Barnard College, 1959.

Under the direction of Loren Noto, "The Fantasticks" began off-Broadway run in 1962. Other Jones and Schmidt successes are "I Do, I Do," "110 the Shade" and "Celebration."

Business 'First' Planned

"The Many Whirls of Business" will be the theme of the first annual Business Education Workshop scheduled at BYU Saturday.

Hundreds of high school and college students in business education, professional secretaries, and commercial teachers are expected to attend the workshop which will begin at 9 a.m. in 184 Jesse Knight Bldg.

Demonstrations about the BYU Business Education operations and displays of business machines will be held, followed by a panel of six students from six schools on future goals in business.

At 11 a.m. small discussion groups will be held on practical and creative ideas in human relations, secretarial procedures, and education and employment opportunities.

Following a luncheon and fashion show geared to current attire for the career girl, tours of BYU business facilities and workshops will continue during the afternoon.

Chairman of the BYU Dept. of Business Education is Dr. Max L. Waters. Business education students aided in preparation of the conference.

Tutoring Gives Study Help To 600

Over 600 students have applied for help this year, according to Wayne Boas, Director of BYU Tutoring Services. For the majority of these students, one or two sessions with the tutor have been enough to clear up the problems they were having.

A study of the effectiveness of the BYU Tutoring Program for fall semester has recently been completed. Reliable statistical methods were used. Over 90 percent of the students receiving help felt the tutoring had been successful, both in helping them to understand the subject matter, as well as improving their grades.
